WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

Every project in every community starts with listening. We believe that our congregations, companion churches and partners know their communities best. That’s why they identify the needs and priorities in their communities, as well as the solutions they believe will make the biggest impact.

The items in this catalog are real examples from projects currently supported through different churchwide ministries. The projects have been planned by our partners – meaning that each community receives exactly the kind of support they need and none of what they don’t.

Your donation will be used where it is needed most within the wider category of each gift you’ve selected. For example, a gift of vaccinations may be used to support other health care initiatives. This allows our church to stay adaptive, flexible and effective in the work that we do. Because we seek to honor your generosity and keep administrative costs low, we do not track individual financial gifts to specific families or locations in the U.S. or abroad.

More than 90% of your gifts directly support our programs.

Less than 10 percent is used for administration and fundraising.

Your gifts support work in 83 countries

Your gift is tax-deductible as allowed by law. You’ll receive a receipt of your gift for your records.

Pig

It doesn’t take long for a tiny piglet to grow to 200 pounds or more. And when this not-so-little piggy goes to the market, it’s worth a pretty penny. Should a family have a failed harvest, medical expense or other unexpected need, this gift can be cashed in to make all the difference.

$30 Piglet
Chicks

Ten little chicks make a big difference. Eggs are not only an ongoing supply of protein-rich meals, they also help bring in steady income when sold at the market. With this gift, things are looking up – sunny side up, that is.

$10 Chicks

$15 Help the farm grow! Add a rooster.

Cow

Just one dairy cow can produce as many as three gallons of milk each day. Nutritious, calcium-packed milk from a cow helps ensure that children grow up healthy and strong. Extra milk can also be used to make cheese, yogurt, butter and other dairy products to eat and sell for a steady source of income. With food and funds – not to mention fertilizer for fields – a cow is a total package for a family in need.

$500 Cow

$50 Share of cow

Gifts on these pages support the sustainable development programs of ELCA World Hunger.
Fish farm

Give your neighbor a fish, and they’ll eat for a day. Give your neighbors a community fish farm, and they’ll eat for a lifetime. A fish farm begins with a pond, training and a few fast-growing fish, such as tilapia. Very quickly, the pond teems with enough fish to provide healthy meals for families in the community.

$250 Community fish farm

Honeybees

A buzz-worthy gift, honeybees have a growing importance as the shrinking honeybee population worldwide is especially worrisome. Beeswax can be transformed into handcrafted soaps, candles, honey and other products to create a small, sustainable business. But that’s not all – we know their mere presence on a farm means they are pollinating plants and boosting crop growth far and wide.

$20 Honeybees

Oxen and plow

With tractors and machines few and far between, a rural farmer can only till so much of a field by hand. A pair of oxen and a plow is a transformational way to share God’s abundance with those in need, with the possibility of doubling or tripling a farmer’s annual harvest. What’s more, parents have extra time and income to support their families, pay for medical expenses and send their children to school.

$1,000 Pair of oxen and plow

$100 Share of oxen and plow

Goat

If there’s a superhero of the barnyard, it just might be the goat. Why? Because goats can go where other animals can’t, surviving in some of the world’s harshest environments – rocky terrain, drought-prone areas, small plots of land, you name it. Fresh milk from a goat provides daily nutrition for children and their families. And what’s more, offspring can rapidly transform a community when shared with other families in need.

$50 Goat

Family farm

Talk about transformation! A cow, a couple of goats, a dozen chicks, two pigs, farming tools, seeds, and agricultural training and support, for example, can help a family achieve a fresh start. With new tools and techniques, crops will grow stronger than ever. Eggs, milk and meat from the farm animals provide a lifetime of food to eat and sell on the market, helping a family escape the cycle of hunger and poverty – for good.

$715 Family farm

“The extra money we earn from honey production has increased our family’s income, which we use for our children’s education and health care costs.”

– SONAMUNI TUDU, WEST BENGAL, INDIA
Irrigation canal

Many farmers around the world rely on rainwater to nourish their crops. But when the rain doesn’t fall, drought can cause an entire community to face hunger. An irrigation canal, piped directly to remote villages and fields, along with ongoing training and maintenance, can help ensure that there is enough to eat, even during the most challenging seasons.

$100 Portion of an irrigation canal project

Water filter

When safe drinking water just isn’t available – especially in times following natural disasters or emergencies – a simple, ceramic water filter is a lifesaver. Capable of purifying water without electricity or chemicals, it’s a powerful tool to quench thirst and prevent water-borne diseases like cholera and typhoid.

New! $30 Water filter

“Whenever I hear people talking about safe, clean water, I would never believe that at any time in my life I could have that for myself. It’s a dream come true.”

– WIJANHI ASAPH, SEMBABULE DISTRICT, UGANDA
Popular Gift!

Simple water well

The lack of access to clean water is one of the biggest challenges to overcoming poverty. It’s also one of the most powerful opportunities to create change. With a simple well, or spring box, as many as 500 families gain access to clean, safe water. Communities are healthier. People spend less money on medical expenses and more on food and education. And instead of spending hours each day gathering water for the family, women and children have time for work and school. Talk about a future filled with hope!

$2,500 Simple water well

$250 Share of a water well

At an average cost of $2,500, a spring box is one of many types of water projects supported by your gifts. Water wells can range from $2,500 to $10,000 or more depending on the location and cost of materials.
Latrine

When you gotta go, you gotta go. But a startling 2.5 billion people lack access to adequate sanitation, including toilets. Without good, accessible facilities, contamination of the water supply and food chain make far too many people sick from preventable diseases. A newly installed latrine, along with training in maintenance and proper hygiene, leads to a healthier, safer community, not to mention a much more comfortable place to take care of business.

$150 Latrine
Fruit-tree seedling

You know what they say about an apple a day. This gift keeps the doctor – and hunger – away, year after year. Fruit-tree seedlings are specially selected for each location and climate and can include varieties, like mango trees, that are known to thrive in the driest of conditions, even drought.

$10 Fruit-tree seedling  $150 Fruit-tree nursery

Community vegetable garden

Start with a shared plot of land and good soil, add drought-resistant seeds and top it off with tools and training. The result? Plenty of tomatoes, potatoes, cabbage, beans, cassava and other vegetables to go around. Extra produce can be sold and the profits shared by the members of the cooperative to provide a great combination of food and income.

$200 Community garden

Farming tools

For many people around the world, farming is more than a way of life; it is the primary source of food and income. Helpful tools – like a rake, hoe and shovel – along with seeds and comprehensive agricultural training help a farmer get ahead. With valuable tips and the right equipment, farmers can count on increased harvests and healthy families.

$25 Farming tools

“We’ve got hope with this project. We’re growing corn, beans and other vegetables too. And we’ll all get a share.

WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Start a small business

Many women have a dream – and the leadership skills – to start their own small business. But with little savings or access to credit, it’s hard to get started. A microloan is just what a woman needs to start her business – weaving, baking or running a storefront, for example – to create a steady source of income, and even better, to help her family escape poverty. And as she repays the loan, the funds are reinvested in a cooperative and the cycle of giving continues to grow.

$125 Microloan for a woman

Send a girl to school

More than half of the world’s out-of-school children are girls. Many girls stay home to help their families by caring for younger siblings and gathering water. But others simply cannot afford modest school fees and uniforms. When you educate a girl, you not only increase her future earning potential, you help her become a powerful agent for change.

$40 School fees and uniform for a girl

“Science is my favorite subject, and when I grow up, I want to be a doctor.”

– AYAK, STUDENT AT ST. ANDREW’S REFUGEE SERVICE, CAIRO, EGYPT
Send a woman to farming field school

Women are the force behind half of the world’s food. But they don’t always have the same access to the land, supplies and education that their male counterparts do. It’s been estimated that if female farmers around the world had equal access to these resources, their increased food production could reduce the number of undernourished people by as many as 100-150 million. With an opportunity to attend field school, they’ll learn the latest advancements in agriculture, marketing and leadership, and help nourish their families and communities.

$75 Farming field school for a woman
School supplies

Imagine being denied the chance to go to school just because your family couldn’t afford school supplies. This is the case for far too many children around the world. By providing school books, paper and pencils, you open a world of opportunity for boys and girls around the world.

$10 School supplies for a child

$300 School supplies for a classroom

Solar-powered lantern

In sub-Saharan Africa, only 19 percent of rural households have access to electricity. Without a reliable source of light, it’s difficult for children and families to walk home, read, study or complete other household tasks without burning costly fuel and breathing in dangerous fumes. A portable, solar-charged lantern is a perfect solution. Let that little light shine!

New! $30 Solar-powered lantern

Vaccinations for a child

Nearly 5,000 children die each day from diseases like measles, polio, tetanus and tuberculosis – all diseases that could be prevented with a vaccine. Tickles and bandages are free.

Mosquito net
To most of us in the United States, mosquitoes are nothing more than a pest. But in many places, especially in Africa, just one bite from an infected mosquito could transmit malaria and lead to death. A mosquito net treated with long-lasting insecticide, coupled with instruction and education on how it is used, helps ensure that families are protected from this life-threatening disease.

$10 One mosquito net  $250 Mosquito nets for a small village

Health care for a child
There’s nothing more important than getting a kid to the doctor when she or he is feeling sick or ready for a checkup. But when a parent must choose between a visit to the clinic and food for the family, it’s especially hard to make it work. Make sure families don’t have to face this difficult decision by covering the cost of a trip to the doctor.

Stock a backpack with food

There's a clever way of fighting childhood hunger that's gaining traction in the United States, and it's based around one thing that schoolchildren have in common: a backpack. More than 30 million children in the United States depend on school meal programs to keep them full and focused each weekday. But on weekends, many students have no choice but to go hungry. The solution? Stocking a child's backpack with a weekend's supply of food each Friday afternoon. That way, children – and their entire families – have a couple of days of healthy eats, and one less thing to worry about.

$10 Stock a backpack with food

Personal and household necessities for disaster survivors

Groceries, new clothes, housewares and toiletries can be a big help to a struggling family, especially after a disaster strikes and there's damage to homes and businesses. These things are especially important after emergency crews leave and media attention fades – and that's exactly when our church is known for doing our best work. There's no better way to remind a family that they haven't been forgotten.
