

INSTITUTIONAL OFFICIAL'S CONFIDENTIAL EVALUATION— END OF PROGRAM: FORM 4A

The resources of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) International Leadership Development Program provide leadership development grants to build the capacity of our global companions for mission and ministry through sustainable development of human resources. It is essential that current international students complete their study programs within the expected timeline and return to service in their home country. Encouragement and guidance by the ELCA Global Mission International Leadership Development staff and seminary/college officials, as well as academic and personal assistance by student's teachers, advisors, and community provide necessary support for the student and their family. Their support encourages progress in the student's program.

This evaluation will help the International Leadership Development staff and educational institution officials to assess the personal and academic progress of the student. Together, with the student, they will consider the continuation of the annual scholarship grant for the next academic year.

Together with the student, please complete the questions on pages 2-3 of this form. If the student is at an ELCA seminary, please return this completed form to the International Student Coordinator at your school. If the student is NOT at an ELCA seminary, please return the form directly to the Director for International Leadership Development at the address listed below or by email. If you feel that discussion regarding this information needs to be more than in written form, please contact the International Leadership Development office directly. The well-being of the students and of the companion church is the primary concern of our mutual efforts. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

1. Did the student make normal progress academically, i.e., did he/she keep pace with students enrolled in the same or similar academic program? If not, what are the factors affecting the situation? Do you have suggestions on how to improve this situation? How can the ELCA-GM International Leadership Development staff help?

2. After consultation with the student, please note the extent his/her extracurricular activities, including work on or off campus, speaking engagements, participation in outside conferences or seminars, or other involvements. Was a healthy balance being maintained so that academic progress was not negatively affected? How could we have been helpful in encouraging a better balance?

3. Are you aware of any personal concerns, cultural adjustments, community relationships, home church situations, spouse and/or family issues, work-related or health problems, worries, spiritual turmoil or any other problems which may have prevented the student from progressing in her/his program according to the expected time line?

4. The global body of Christ is based on mutual respect and the sharing of gifts and resources. How has the educational institution received the gifts of this student during his or her time with you?

5. Please add any information which would be helpful to the International Leadership Development staff in order to help us more effectively meet the student's and the educational institution's needs.

6. Additional comments.
