Participant Resource Booklet
(candidates, seminarians not in candidacy, applicants and inquirers)
We often speak of the many dimensions of wellness in our lives—spiritual, intellectual, emotional, social and physical well-being, for instance. Financial well-being is another vital component in our endeavor to live well. Research has shown that those who experience greater personal financial well-being are more satisfied and healthy as leaders than those who have poor financial health. Those in good financial health are more satisfied with their household financial situation, more satisfied in their ministry, and indicate that they are in better spiritual and physical health than those who are in poor financial health.

This booklet contains information about the financial wellness resources available to you as someone exploring call.

Lutheran Social Service (LSS) Financial Counseling

Financial counseling has been shown to be an effective way to improve personal financial well-being. Those who have participated in financial counseling have incurred less educational debt, decreased their already-incurred educational debt more rapidly, increased their credit scores, managed their consumer debt, lessened their financial anxiety and achieved overall greater financial health.

To more deeply develop skills around financial wellness, it is recommended that you, as someone exploring call, participate in financial counseling, where you can engage in open conversations about financial wellness and financial literacy.

As someone exploring a call, you are eligible for six free confidential sessions with an expert financial counselor through Financial Choice, a service of Lutheran Social Service (LSS) Financial Counseling, provided to you by Portico Benefit Services. LSS financial counselors can help you create a unique plan to strengthen your financial leadership for yourself and to help others.

LSS Financial Counseling offers a full range of financial services that empower people to conquer their debt through tangible steps and personal guidance. LSS financial counselors help individuals, couples and families with:

- consolidating debt
- establishing a budget
- improving credit scores
- protecting their homes
- tackling student-loan debt
- achieving financial wellness

Included below is basic information about LSS Financial Counseling and answers to frequently asked questions around what to expect in a financial counseling relationship with LSS.

What can I expect with LSS Financial Counseling

When should I seek out financial counseling?

Most simply stated, financial counseling is appropriate whenever you have a question about finances. These questions may cover a variety of topics related to budgeting, borrowing, credit or debt.
Times of transition are a particularly appropriate time to consult with a financial counselor.

- Before starting seminary, a financial counselor can help you think about what it will mean to live on one (or in some cases, no) household income.
- As you—and potentially your family—prepare for a year of congregational internship, a financial counselor may be able to provide advice on reducing moving costs or living on less.
- As you prepare to graduate from seminary, a financial counselor may be able to provide helpful ideas on how to effectively budget while you anticipate your first call.

Now is the perfect time to take control of your finances. Use the flow chart titled “How can financial counseling help me achieve financial wellness?” and the infographic titled “Achieve Financial Wellness” included on pages 5-7 of this booklet to help you think through how LSS Financial Counseling might be able to help you.

How can financial counseling help others?

A majority of Americans worry about financial issues, including credit card debt, savings and retirement. Financial counseling can facilitate healthy conversations about financial concerns among couples, families and with members of a congregation or community. Use the infographic titled “Your Neighbor's Financial Wellness” included on page 8 of this booklet to help you think through how LSS Financial Counseling might add to your ministry toolbox.

How much does financial counseling cost?

You are eligible for six free confidential sessions with an expert financial counselor through Financial Choice, a service of LSS Financial Counseling, provided by Portico Benefit Services.

What can I expect in a financial counseling session?

Financial counseling sessions last for one hour and are completely driven by your financial needs and questions. A financial counselor will begin the first session by asking, “What are you looking for?” “What has been going on in your life financially?” and “Where do you want to be financially?”

The financial counselor will then work with you to address your financial concerns. This may involve going through a credit report, discussing debt repayment options or reviewing budgeting techniques. What is discussed will depend on your specific concerns.

At the end of each session, your financial counselor will provide you with a specific action plan. This plan is unique to you and seeks to address the issues raised during the session. You may set an appointment right then with the counselor to review progress on the action plan, or you may call the counselor again to review the plan.

Will I always work with the same financial counselor?

Yes. At the end of the first session, the financial counselor will provide you with his or her direct telephone line.

How do I get in touch with a financial counselor?

There are three ways to contact a financial counselor at LSS:

- by phone (800-528-2926);
- by visiting an office in person, if you are in Minnesota or Wisconsin (lssmn.org/FC-Locations); or
- by going online (lssmn.org/portico)

If I have had a bad experience with financial advising or coaching relationships in the past, how will this be different?

Financial counselors understand that many individuals bring feelings of shame or discouragement about their financial situations into a counseling session. The financial counselor will work with you to alleviate these feelings; they know it takes a lot of courage to make the call to a financial counselor. Financial counselors believe that the most successful approach in working with you is as members of the same team.

FAQs about Financial Choice

What is Financial Choice?
Financial Choice is a partnership between Portico Benefit Services and LSS Financial Counseling to provide an enhanced level of services to build financial wellness. You and your family members are eligible for up to six free sessions with a certified financial counselor for any of our service types. Sessions can be in-person at any of our eight offices, or by phone or online nationwide. Have a quick question or immediate concern? We also have a counselor on call during weekdays to help get your questions answered.

When is the right time to get help? Do I need to be in trouble with finances to qualify for this service?
This service is for everyone. You do not have to be in financial trouble to use Financial Choice. LSS financial counselors are available to help you find tools and solutions for your financial situation including, but not limited to, reducing debt, improving credit, budgeting for life events (like marriage, having a baby, moving into your own apartment, retirement), and reaching your goals through strategic savings. If you do find yourself with a financial challenge, meeting with an LSS financial counselor through Financial Choice is confidential. Our counselors have helped thousands of families to stabilize their finances and get out of debt. They can help you take control as well.

My student loans just went into repayment. Can Financial Choice help me with those?
Absolutely! Whether your loans have just gone into repayment, have defaulted, or you have been carrying them around for years, our student loan team will help you find tools and solutions for your financial situation including, but not limited to, reducing debt, improving credit, budgeting for life events (like marriage, having a baby, moving into your own apartment, retirement), and reaching your goals through strategic savings. Our student loan counselors can help you find what types of student loans you have, what repayment options are available to you, figure out if consolidation makes sense for you, and make a plan to get all your student loans paid off.

What is a Debt Management Plan (DMP) and how does it help with credit card debt?
LSS can help you make an action plan for all of your debts, but it’s hard to beat a DMP for rapid repayment of credit cards. A debt management plan consolidates your credit card debt into one monthly payment to creditors through LSS. Most creditors will then offer lower interest rates and stop any late fees, leading to faster debt repayment. DMPs are paid off within five years or less and offer full repayment, with good credit outcomes. There is a monthly service fee based on the size of your payment, but LSS waives the DMP set-up fee for Financial Choice.

What can a foreclosure prevention counselor do if I’m worried about my mortgage payments?
Our HUD-certified housing counselors can offer guidance on renting, buying or owning a home, including rights and options to prevent foreclosure. LSS housing counselors will review your financial picture and provide realistic options, including helping you advocate with your mortgage company or access programs to help homeowners.

I worry about having enough for retirement. What kind of help can Financial Choice offer?
Financial Choice counselors can help with almost any aspect of personal finance – building a good credit score, debt reduction, money management and budgeting tips. They do not offer legal nor investment advice, but can help with the basics like how to find money in your budget to save more for retirement, or thinking about how to budget in retirement, or building financial confidence in thinking about retirement plans.

My spouse/partner and I don’t agree about finances. Can Financial Choice help us to get on the same page?
Many couples have a difficult time talking about money and getting on the same page. Our Financial Choice counselors can help you set goals and explore different tools and strategies for managing your money and reaching your financial goals together.

Is LSS Financial Counseling a safe place to go for help?
LSS is a member agency of the National Foundation for Credit Counseling (NFCC), which is the “gold standard” for reputable nonprofit financial counseling. Our counselors are trained and certified in credit counseling, housing counseling, foreclosure prevention, and reverse mortgage counseling, depending on their specialty. A program of Lutheran Social Service of Minnesota, our mission is to help people gain control of their finances and achieve financial wellness. We’ve been helping people in your community overcome debt since 1987. We can help you too.

Is the financial counseling confidential?
Yes, and your information shared with LSS Financial Counseling remains private under the same state and federal laws that keep any medical or counseling record private. LSS does share overall utilization numbers with Financial Choice partners but never any client names or any identifying information.

What does it cost to participate?
All Financial Choice clients can have up to six sessions per year of financial counseling, completely free, whether the focus is on debt, budgeting, credit report review, or even housing counseling. Financial Choice allows you to build financial wellness with support and follow-up to get there, at no cost. The one exception is that there is a small monthly fee if you sign up for a monthly debt management plan—this is a nominal fee based on the size of your consolidation. All counseling is free.
