

LUTHERAN DISASTER RESPONSE
SYRIAN CONFLICT

www.elca.org/disaster

Ongoing conflict in Syria has displaced millions of people. Many have left their homes for more secure places within Syria while others are crossing the borders into the neighboring countries of Turkey, Lebanon, Jordan and Iraq in search of safety and shelter. Stretched resources and political dynamics are increasing tension for those who are most vulnerable in the area.

We are currently at work through our partners in Syria and the surrounding area. Our work with The Lutheran World Federation and the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Jordan and the Holy Land includes meeting the needs of Syrian refugees who have traveled to Jordan. Camp management and the provision of access to proper shelter have been the primary focus of our work.

We have committed over $1 million to help support people who have been displaced within Syria. We are also providing camp management and housing for refugees in Jordan.

But we need you. It is because of generous gifts from people like you that we are able to respond to people in need. Our unique relationships with Lutheran churches around the world enable us to be on the ground – making a difference.

Your gift designated for “Syrian conflict” will be used in full – 100 percent – to respond to this conflict. Thank you!
