From Conflict to Communion: Together in Hope

Joint Lutheran-Catholic Commemoration of the Reformation

Thursday, March 2, 2017

Lutheran Center Chapel
Chicago, Ill.
This year marks the first centennial anniversary of the Reformation in the ecumenical age. On October 31, 2016, Lutherans and Catholics came together to inaugurate this commemoration, launching the 500th anniversary year. The world looked on in wonder as His Holiness Pope Francis and Lutheran World Federation President Bishop Munib Younan and General Secretary Martin Junge led a service of common prayer, and a joint statement was signed. A public stadium event highlighted inspiring partnerships in tending to a world broken by violence, conflict, and ecological destruction. Together, these events offered the world a new kind of centennial between Catholics and Lutherans: one of thanksgiving, repentance, and a commitment to joint witness and service. www.lutheranworld.org/lund2016

Importantly, this centennial reflects the progress of fifty years of theological dialogue since the Second Vatican Council. On the global level, and here in the United States, this dialogue has fostered mutual understanding, common ways of speaking about our history and each other, greater clarity about the remaining differences, and a reinforced commitment to reconciling our unity in Christ. The most significant milestone in this journey to date was the signing of the Joint Declaration on the Doctrine of Justification (JDDJ) by the Catholic Church and The Lutheran World Federation in 1999.

The Joint Commemoration last October 31 communicated its message in its title: “From Conflict to Communion – Together in Hope.” From Conflict to Communion is also the name of a report from by the international Lutheran-Roman Catholic Commission on Unity which tells the history of the Reformation for the first time from a joint perspective and so reminds us, in view of 2017, that “Lutherans and Catholics have many reasons to retell their history in new ways.”

Today we take our place in this unfolding history: together we give thanks for the faithful witness we have all received through the Reformation, we repent of the divisive wrongs we have done each other, and we make common commitments to grow in communion. This service of common prayer, also under the heading “From Conflict to Communion – Together in Hope,” links Lutherans and Catholics in the United States to the global observance, as well as to other commemorations in diverse contexts in this country and around the world. Similarly, the presence of ecumenical representatives on this occasion is an encouragement for all Christians as we journey on the way to the full reconciliation and healing of the body of Christ.

For all of this, we give thanks to God.

Thanksgiving for Baptism

The assembly stands.

Blessed be the Holy Trinity, + one God, the fountain of living water, the rock who gave us birth, our light and our salvation. Amen.

Joined to Christ in the waters of baptism we are clothed with God’s mercy and forgiveness. With the grace of the Holy Spirit, we are each called to build up the body of Christ. Some as teachers and organizers; some as singers and writers; some dance; and some prepare the table. Some call forth our generosity and administer our shared life. Some are prophets and dreamers; still others are pastors, deacons, and bishops.

All of us are chosen, a priesthood of all believers, built into a house of living stones, precious in God’s sight.

Let us give thanks for the gift of baptism.

We give you thanks, O God, for in the beginning your Spirit moved over the waters and by your Word you created the world. We bless you for water that is all around us: Lake Michigan, the Des Plaines River, and Salt Creek. Above all we praise you for the gift of new life in Jesus Christ. Shower us with your Spirit, and renew our lives with forgiveness, grace, and love. To you be given honor and praise through Jesus Christ our Lord in the unity of the Holy Spirit, now and forever. Amen.
Gathering Song

Christ Is Made the Sure Foundation

During the singing the assembly is sprinkled with water as a remembrance of baptism.

1. Christ is made the sure foundation, Christ, our head and cornerstone, chosen of the Lord and precious,
2. To this temple, where we call you, come; O Lord of hosts, and stay; come with all your loving-kindness,
3. Here bestow on all your servants what they seek from you to gain; what they gain from you, forever to the Son, praise and honor to the Spirit, binding all the church in one; holy Zion's
4. Praise and honor to the Father, praise and honor to the Father, praise and honor to the Father, praise and honor to the Father, help forever and our confidence alone. benediction shed within these walls today.

in your glory ever-more with you to reign. one in glory while unending ages run!
Dear Sisters and Brothers in Christ. Welcome to this ecumenical prayer, which commemorates the 500 years of the Reformation. For over 50 years Lutherans and Catholics have been on a journey from conflict to communion. With joy, we have come to recognize that what unites us is far greater than what divides us. On this journey, mutual understanding and trust have grown.

So it is possible for us to gather today. We come with different thoughts and feelings of thanksgiving and lament, joy and repentance, joy in the Gospel and sorrow for division. We gather to commemorate in remembrance, in thanksgiving and confession, and in common witness and commitment.

In the document From Conflict to Communion, we read, “The church is the body of Christ. As there is only one Christ, so also he has only one body. Through baptism, human beings are made members of this body.” (#219) “Since Catholics and Lutherans are bound to one another in the body of Christ as members of it, then it is true of them what Paul says in 1 Corinthians 12:26: ‘If one member suffers, all suffer together; if one member is honored, all rejoice together.’ What affects one member of the body also affects all the others. For this reason, when Lutheran Christians remember the events that led to the particular formation of their churches, they do not wish to do so without their Catholic fellow Christians. In remembering with each other the beginning of the Reformation, they are taking their baptism seriously.” (#221)

Let us pray.

Jesus Christ, Lord of the church, send your Holy Spirit. Illumine our hearts and heal our memories. O Holy Spirit: help us to rejoice in the gifts that have come to the Church through the Reformation, prepare us to repent for the dividing walls that we, and our forebears, have built, and equip us for common witness and service in the world. Amen.
Song invoking the Holy Spirit

Gracious Spirit, Heed Our Pleading

Njoo kwetu., Roho mwema

1  Gracious Spirit, heed our pleading, fashion us all anew.
2  Come to teach us, come to nourish those who believe in Christ.
3  Guide our thinking and our speaking done in your holy name.

Tu - fu - ndi - she ya mbi - ngu - ni, tu - we wa - tu wa - pya.
It’s your leading that we’re needing, help us to follow you.
Bless the faithful, may they flourish, strengthened by grace unpriced.
Motivate all in their seeking, freeing from guilt and shame.

Refrain

Njo - o, njo - o, njo - o, Ro - ho mwema.
Come, come, come, Holy Spirit, come.

Njo - o, njo - o, njo - o, Ro - ho mwema.
Come, come, come, Holy Spirit, come.

4  Not mere knowledge, but discernment,
nor rootless liberty;
turn disquiet to contentment,
doubt into certainty.

5  Keep us fervent in our witness,
unswayed by earth’s allure.
Ever grant us zealous fitness,
which you alone assure.
Welcome

Thanksgiving

As we read in From Conflict to Communion, “Lutherans are thankful in their hearts for what Luther and the other reformers made accessible to them: the understanding of the gospel of Jesus Christ and faith in him; the insight into the mystery of the Triune God who gives Himself to us human beings out of grace and who can be received only in full trust in the divine promise; the freedom and certainty that the gospel creates; in the love that comes from and is awakened by faith, and in the hope in life and death that faith brings with it; and in the living contact with the Holy Scripture, the catechisms, and hymns that draw faith into life” (#225), in the priesthood of all baptized believers and their calling for the common mission of the Church. “Lutherans … realize that what they are thanking God for is not a gift that they can claim only for themselves. They want to share this gift with all other Christians.” (#226)

“Catholics and Lutherans have so much of the faith in common that they can … be thankful together.” (#226). Encouraged by the Second Vatican Council, Catholics “gladly acknowledge and esteem the truly Christian endowments from our common heritage which are to be found among our separated brethren. It is right and salutary to recognize the riches of Christ and virtuous works in the lives of others who are bearing witness to Christ, sometimes even to the shedding of their blood. For God is always wonderful in His works and worthy of all praise.” (Unitatis Redintegratio, Chapter 1). In this spirit, Catholics and Lutherans embrace each other as sisters and brothers in the Lord. Together they rejoice in the truly Christian gifts that they both have received and rediscovered in various ways through the renewal and impulses of the Reformation. These gifts are reason for thanksgiving. “The ecumenical journey enables Lutherans and Catholics to appreciate together Martin Luther’s insight into and spiritual experience of the gospel of the righteousness of God, which is also God’s mercy.” (#244)
Let us pray.

Thanks be to you O God for the many guiding theological and spiritual insights that we have all received through the Reformation. Thanks be to you for the good transformations and reforms that were set in motion by the Reformation or by struggling with its challenges. Thanks be to you for the proclamation of the gospel that occurred during the Reformation and that since then has strengthened countless people to live lives of faith in Jesus Christ.

Amen.

Song of Thanksgiving       Praise the One Who Breaks the Darkness

The assembly stands to sing.

1 Praise the One who breaks the darkness with a liberating light;
2 Praise the One who blessed the children with a strong yet gentle word;
3 Praise the one true love incarnate: Christ, who suffered in our place;

praise the One who frees the prisoners, turning blindness into sight.
praise the One who drove out demons with a piercing, two-edged sword.
Jesus died and rose for many that we may know God by grace.
As the commemoration in 2017 brings joy and gratitude to expression, so must it also allow room for both Lutherans and Catholics to experience the pain over failures and trespasses, guilt and sin in the persons and events that are being remembered.” (#228) “In the sixteenth century, Catholics and Lutherans frequently not only misunderstood but also exaggerated and caricatured their opponents in order to make them look ridiculous. They repeatedly violated the eighth commandment, which prohibits bearing false witness against one’s neighbor.” (#233)
Lutherans and Catholics often focused on what separated them from each other rather than looking for what united them. They accepted that the Gospel was mixed with the political and economic interests of those in power. Their failures resulted in the deaths of hundreds of thousands of people. Families were torn apart, people imprisoned and tortured, wars fought and religion and faith misused. Human beings suffered and the credibility of the Gospel was undermined with consequences that still impact us today. We deeply regret the evil things that Catholics and Lutherans have mutually done to each other.

Let us pray.

O God of mercy, we lament that even good actions of reform and renewal had often unintended negative consequences.

Response: Kyrie eleison, stanza 1

We bring before you the burdens of the guilt of the past when our forebears did not follow your will that all be one in the truth of the Gospel.

Response: Christe eleison, stanza 2

We confess our own ways of thinking and acting that perpetuate the divisions of the past. As communities and as individuals, we build many walls around us: mental, spiritual, physical, political walls that result in discrimination and violence. Forgive us, Lord.

Response: Kyrie eleison, stanza 3
The assembly stands.

Christ is the way, the truth and the life. He is our peace, who breaks down the walls that divide, who gives us, through the Holy Spirit, ever-new beginnings.

In Christ, we receive forgiveness and reconciliation and we are strengthened for a faithful and common witness in our time.

Amen

The Peace

Let the peace of Christ rule in your hearts, since as members of one body you are called to peace.
The peace of Christ be with you always.
And also with you.

Let us offer each a sign of reconciliation and peace.

Sharing of peace

During the sharing of the peace, we sing Ubi caritas

\text{Ubi caritas, God is dwelling there; Deus ibi est.}

\text{Where true charity and love abide,}

\text{et amor,}

\text{God is dwelling there.}
Common Witness and Commitment

Remain standing for the gospel.

Gospel

John 15:1-5

As we continue our journey from conflict to communion, let us hear the Gospel according to John

“I am the true vine, and my Father is the vinegrower. He removes every branch in me that bears no fruit. Every branch that bears fruit he prunes to make it bear more fruit. You have already been cleansed by the word that I have spoken to you. Abide in me as I abide in you. Just as the branch cannot bear fruit by itself unless it abides in the vine, neither can you unless you abide in me. I am the vine, you are the branches. Those who abide in me and I in them bear much fruit, because apart from me you can do nothing.”

The Gospel of the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

Homily
The Apostles’ Creed

The assembly stands.

Together, let us confess our faith.

I believe in God, the Father almighty,
Creator of heaven and earth.

I believe in Jesus Christ, his only Son, our Lord, who was conceived by the Holy Spirit, born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate, was crucified, died and was buried;
He descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again from the dead;
He ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God, the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge the living and the dead.

I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting. Amen.
Lord, Keep Us Steadfast in Your Word

1 Lord, keep us steadfast in your word; curb those who by deceit or sword would wrest the kingdom from your Son and bring to naught all he has done.

2 Lord Jesus Christ, your pow’r make known, for you are Lord of lords alone; defend your holy church, that we may sing your praise eternally.

3 O Comforter of priceless worth, send peace and unity on earth; support us in our final strife and lead us out of death to life.

The assembly is seated.
Commitments: Five Imperatives

Our ecumenical journey continues. In this worship, we commit ourselves to grow in communion. The five imperatives found in From Conflict to Communion will guide us.

The commitments are ready by Catholic and Lutheran readers.

First Commitment: Catholics and Lutherans should always begin from the perspective of unity and not from the point of view of division in order to strengthen what is held in common even though the differences are more easily seen and experienced. (#239).

A candle is lit.

Song

In the Lord I’ll Be Ever Thankful

!Song Sheet Music
Second commitment: Lutherans and Catholics must let themselves continuously be transformed by the encounter with the other and by the mutual witness of faith. (#240)

A candle is lit.
“In the Lord, I’ll Be Ever Thankful” is sung.

Third commitment: Catholics and Lutherans should again commit themselves to seek visible unity, to elaborate together what this means in concrete steps, and to strive repeatedly toward this goal. (#241)

A candle is lit.
“In the Lord, I’ll Be Ever Thankful” is sung.

Fourth commitment: Lutherans and Catholics should jointly rediscover the power of the gospel of Jesus Christ for our time. (#242)

A candle is lit.
“In the Lord, I’ll Be Ever Thankful” is sung.

Fifth commitment: Catholics and Lutherans should witness together to the mercy of God in proclamation and service to the world. (#243).

A candle is lit.
“In the Lord, I’ll Be Ever Thankful” is sung.

Joint Statement
Called to Labor in God’s Vineyard

The assembly stands.

1. Called to labor in God’s vine-yard, Eager to accept the task,
   Using every skill and talent,
   Doing all that God would ask, May we give ourselves completely.

2. Called to labor in God’s vine-yard, Not alone, but joined as one,
   Sharing common goals and values,
   Striving till the task is done, May we work with one another.

3. Called to labor in God’s vine-yard, Help us, Lord, in all we do.
   As the vines are heavy laden,
   Send more workers called by you. May our work bear fruit eternal.

4. Called to labor in God’s vine-yard, May we work with ourselves completely.
   To the work that is at hand, And our fervor never cease.

5. Called to labor in God’s vine-yard, Wheth...
Intercessory Prayer

The prayers are prayed by Lutheran and Catholic intercessors.

“Ecumenical engagement for the unity of the church does not serve only the church but also the world so that the world may believe.” (#243) Let us now pray for the world, the church and all those in need... .

God of mercy, throughout history your goodness prevails, open the hearts of all people to find you and your mercy that endures forever. Hear our prayer.

God of peace, bend that which is inflexible, the barriers that divide, the attachments that thwart reconciliation. Bring peace in this world. Restore wholeness among us and show us your mercy. Hear our prayer.

God of justice, healer and redeemer, heal those who suffer from illness, poverty and exclusion. Hasten justice for those suffering under the power of evil. Give new life to all and show us your mercy. Hear our prayer.

God, rock and fortress, protect refugees, those without homes or security, all the abandoned children. Help us always to defend human dignity. Show us your mercy. Hear our prayer.

God creator, all creation groans in expectation, convert us from exploitation. Teach us to live in harmony with your creation. Show us your mercy. Hear our prayer.

God of mercy, strengthen and protect those who are persecuted for faith in you and those of other faiths who suffer persecution. Give us the courage to profess our faith. Your mercy endures forever. Hear our prayer.
God of life, heal painful memories, transform all complacency, indifference and ignorance, pour out a spirit of reconciliation. Turn us to you and one another. Show us your mercy.

Hear our prayer.

God of love, your son Jesus reveals the mystery of love among us, strengthen that unity that you alone sustain in our diversity. Your mercy endures forever.

Hear our prayer.

God our sustenance, bring us together at your eucharistic table, nurture within and among us a communion rooted in your love. Your mercy endures forever.

Hear our prayer.

The Lord’s Prayer

In confidence that you O God hear our prayers for the needs of this world and for the unity of all Christians in their witness, let us pray as Jesus taught us....

Pray in the translation or language of your heart.

Blessing

For all that God can do within us, for all that God can do without us,
Thanks be to God.

For all in whom Christ lived before us, for all in whom Christ lives beside us,
Thanks be to God.

For all the Spirit wants to bring us, for where the Spirit wants to send us,
Thanks be to God.

The blessing of God, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, be with you and on your way together, now and forever.
Amen.
Song

Oh, Praise the Gracious Power

---

1. Oh, praise the gracious pow’r that tumbles walls of fear
2. Oh, praise persistent truth that opens fist-ed minds
3. Oh, praise inclusive love, encircling ev’ry race,
4. Oh, praise the word of faith that claims us as God’s own,
5. Oh, praise the tide of grace that laps at ev’ry shore and gathers in one house of faith all strangers far and near: and eas-es from their anxious clutch the prej-u-dice that blinds:

oblivious to gender, wealth, to social rank or place:

a living temple built on Christ, our rock and corner-stone:

with visions of a world at peace, no longer bled by war:

Refrain

We praise you, Christ! Your cross has made us one!

---

6. Oh, praise the pow’r, the truth, the love, the word, the tide.
Yet more than these, oh, praise their source, praise Christ the crucified: Refrain

7. Oh, praise the living Christ with faith’s bright songful voice!
Announce the gospel to the world and with these words rejoice: Refrain

---

Dismissal

Go in peace to love and serve the Lord.

Thanks be to God.

A special thank you to our ecumenical guests whose presence with us today is a reminder that our journey as Lutherans and Catholics toward reconciliation is for the sake of healing the whole body of Christ.
Salvadoran artist Christian Chavarria has created a vibrant 6 foot high cross for the joint Reformation commemoration, replete with meaning for both Catholics and Lutherans. Depicting the Triune God’s creative, reconciling and sanctifying work, this cross also depicts our illustrates a longing for a shared Eucharist. The images embody reconciliation: God’s call to communities of faith to be places of reconciliation and peace, God’s call to all the baptized to be ministers of reconciliation, engaging the path of goodness that offers reconciliation to all humanity and all creation. God embraces this splendid universal communion.
