Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

ELCA Style Guide

The primary style manual for the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) is the current edition of the Associated Press (AP) Stylebook. The primary dictionary is the current edition of Merriam-Webster's Dictionary. When alternate spellings are available in the dictionary, the first reference is used. Don't assume that an entry in this word list implies a difference with Merriam-Webster's or the AP Stylebook.

NOTES:

- Use only one space between sentences and after a colon (except in biblical citations where there is no space following the colon).
- In general, italic type is discouraged. It is used in this guide, as it is in AP Stylebook, for emphasis and clarity.
- An entry marked "preferred" indicates the style that should be used if possible. If an alternative is needed, justification for the choice should be provided to the editorial specialist.
- Resources of a highly academic nature that include footnotes should be edited per Chicago Manual of Style (chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html).
- Since texts prepared for liturgical use often quote or paraphrase Bible passages, texts in Evangelical Lutheran Worship resources employ a more economical use of added style characteristics such as capitalization, so these texts are consonant with the style of the New Revised Standard Version of the Bible. Quotations from Evangelical Lutheran Worship resources will reproduce the style of those resources. For consistency, newly developed or adapted texts for liturgical use normally follow Evangelical Lutheran Worship style.

Abba

Aramaic for "father"; do not italicize.

acronyms

Generally do not use acronyms, exceptions are ELCA, acronyms in common usage per Merriam-Webster's Dictionary and for versions of the Bible. Spell out the name of this church in first reference with acronym in parentheses following:

The Evangelical Lutheran Church in America (ELCA) is a church body whose national offices are in Chicago. The ELCA has over 10,000 congregations.

It's OK to use MYLE and the tAble for the respective ELCA youth events.

see Appendix 1 for acronyms for versions of the Bible.

accompaniment

Describes the way God walks with us and the way the ELCA therefore walks with and works among Christian communities in other countries, as well as work in local communities.

A.D./B.C.; C.E./B.C.E.

see B.C./A.D.

Administrative Team

Oversees and coordinates the work of the churchwide organization, engages in strategic planning and monitors the implementation of the Plan for Mission and the operational plan for the biennium. It coordinates the work of cross-unit teams and provides a forum for addressing leadership development and discussing interdependent relationships, highly confidential issues and other issues raised by the presiding bishop.

adolescent

Do not use; use boy, girl, young adult or youth.

adult

A person who has reached age 18; any reference to adult women as “girls” or adult men as “boys” is unacceptable.

see also boy; girl; man; woman; young adult; youth

advent/Advent

Capitalize when referring to the Advent season; but lowercase for “the advent of our Lord.”

affect, effect

Most common usage:

“Affect” (verb) means “to influence”:

The sudden snowstorm affected their travel plans.

“Effect” (noun) means “a result or consequence.”

The sudden snowstorm had no effect on their travel plans.

Rare usage:

“Effect” as a verb means “to bring about” or “to cause.”

The new mayor hoped to effect change in the economy.

affirmation of baptism/Affirmation of Baptism

Lowercase when used as a general term:

After the hymn of the day comes the affirmation of baptism.

Capitalize when referring to the title of the liturgical rite, usually including a page citation for the service:

Note how the laying on of hands is done in Affirmation of Baptism.

see baptism

Africa/African

Use only when referring to the entire continent; otherwise, refer to a particular country, culture or people.

African American (adj.)

Don't hyphenate. The usage of the cultural-ethnic background of people who were transplanted to the Americas (by immigration or by slave trade) is preferred, rather than referencing skin color. This usage affirms the rich ethnic traditions from which people have come rather than simply indicating skin color or a perceived skin color. Since members of some ethnic groups use different terms when referring to themselves, if possible ask them how they would like to be identified.

African Descent Ministry Strategy

Capitalize in this usage; lowercase “descent” in general references to individuals of African descent.

Hyphenate if used as an adjective:

These are values of the African-descent community.

age

At age 18, everyone is referred to as an adult.

Avoid using the terms “boy” and “girl” for anyone older than 12.

“Older adult” is preferred over “elderly” or “senior citizen”; but their use in generic phrases that don't refer to specific individuals is acceptable: “senior citizen discount,” “a home for the elderly.”

Always use numerals; hyphenate ages used as adjectives:

A 5-year-old girl painted it. The book was written for 3-year-olds.

Avoid using “teenager,” “adolescent” and “kids.”

see also adult; boy; girl; man; woman; young adult; youth

AIDS

Acronym for acquired immunodeficiency syndrome—all caps, no periods. Use “people with AIDS” or “people living with AIDS”; do not use “AIDS victim”; when reference includes family and friends, use “people affected by AIDS.”

Use “HIV and AIDS” not “HIV/AIDS.”

see also HIV

Alaska Native

Indigenous people of Alaska. Since members of some ethnic groups use different terms when referring to themselves, if possible ask them how they would like to be identified.

Do not use “Native Alaskan.”

Alcoholics Anonymous

AA is acceptable after first reference; note the absence of punctuation.

Aleut

One of numerous Alaska Native people; Indigenous people of the Aleutian Islands off the southwest coast of Alaska.

see also Alaska Native

Allah

Arabic for “God.”

alleluia/Alleluia!

capitalize only when used as an interjection.

All Saints Day

No apostrophe.

all together, altogether

“All together” is an adjective and means “gathered in one place”:

The Old and New Testaments were printed all together in one volume.

“Altogether” is an adverb meaning “wholly” or “completely”:

The stories were altogether true.

Or “in all”:

There were four stories altogether.

Or “on the whole,” “in the main”:

Altogether, the story seemed probable.

almighty God

Note capitalization treatment.

altar

The table or stand used for sacred purposes in worship.

ambo

A single reading stand for the proclamation of the readings and preaching; often used instead of “lectern” in liturgical settings.

America

Do not use when “United States” is meant.

American(s)

Popular usage, even outside the United States, often refers to U.S. citizens as “Americans,” but they aren’t the only Americans or, strictly speaking, the only North Americans. Be as clear as possible in the reference, such as “people of the United States” or “citizens of [country].”

American Indian

Indigenous people of North America, except for those identified as Alaska Native people; refer to a specific nation when possible:

He is a Hopi commissioner.

Since members of some ethnic groups use different terms when referring to themselves, if possible ask for clarification.

amid

Not amidst.

among

Not “amongst.”

among, between

In general, “among” introduces more than two items:

Jesus distributed the bread among the men, women and children gathered.

“Between” introduces only two items:

I am between a rock and a hard place.

and/or

Do not use this device or shortcut, as it damages the clarity of a sentence and often leads to confusion or ambiguity; instead offer more explanation as to the options involved in the reference.

annunciation/Annunciation

Capitalize only when referring to the festival on March 25 that commemorates the announcement of the incarnation to Mary: “The Annunciation of Our Lord.”

anti-

In general, hyphenate after this prefix, although there are many exceptions.

see AP Stylebook entry for more information

see also prefix

anti-Christ/Antichrist

Someone or something opposed to Christ is “anti-Christ” (adjective). “Antichrist” (proper name) refers to the individual who, according to the Bible, will challenge Christ.

anti-racism

anti-Semitic/anti-Semitism

Note capitalization

anyone, any one; everyone, every one; someone, some one

When the emphasis is on “any,” “every” or “some” and when the person/people is/are thought of in general terms, write as one word:

Everyone who is baptized

When the focus is on each person and the emphasis is on individuality, write as two words:

Every one of the baptized

apocalypse/Apocalypse

Capitalize only when referring to the book of Revelation or the Apocalypse of John.

Apocrypha

Jewish intertestamental writings; the books that are in the Septuagint or Vulgate versions of the Bible, but not included in the Jewish or Protestant canons.

apocryphal/Apocryphal

Lowercase when referring to a story that may not be true; capitalize only when referring to the Apocrypha.

apologist/Apologist(s)

Capitalize only when referring to someone who was of this group of second-century Christian theologians, such as Justin Martyr.

Apology, the

Place in quotation marks when referring to the work by Justin Martyr or Plato; do not use quotation marks when referring to the Apology to the Augsburg Confession.

apostle/Apostle(s)

“The apostle Paul,” “this apostle”; but “Apostle Paul.”

Apostles’ Creed, the

Capitalize with an apostrophe; lowercase “creed” when using the short form in subsequent references: “the creed.”

apostolic/Apostolic

Lowercase “apostolic church,” “apostolic council,” “apostolic greetings,” “apostolic succession”; but “the Apostolic Fathers.”

appraise, apprise

“Appraise” is to evaluate:

Let me appraise the situation in the assembly plenary.

“Apprise” is to inform:

I will apprise the secretary of the mood of the plenary.

article/Article

Capitalize when referring to individual articles of the creeds: “the Third Article”; but “this article.”

as, like

Use “as” as a conjunction to introduce clauses:

Jane plays cello as a musician should.

Use “like” as a preposition for comparing nouns and pronouns, which requires a direct object:

Jane plays like a musician.

ascension/Ascension

Lowercase “Christ’s ascension”; capitalize only when referring to the Thursday, 40 days after Easter, that commemorates Christ’s ascent into heaven: “Ascension Day.”

Ash Wednesday

Capitalize.

Asian

Use for people from countries in Asia; do not use “Asiatic” or “Oriental” when referring to people; whenever possible, make references to the specific country:

Filipinos are people from the Philippines.

Asian American

Do not hyphenate (exception to AP Stylebook); U.S. citizens of Asian descent.

assembly/Assembly

Capitalize when using the full name of the event:

I attended the 2009 ELCA Churchwide Assembly.

Lowercase if the full title is not being used:

During the assembly we sat in the visitors’ section.

“Assembly” is also used when referring to the worshiping congregation with its ministers:

The assembly rose to sing the hymn.

see also Churchwide Assembly; Synod Assembly (lowercase churchwide assembly/ies and synod assembly/ies when used in a general way)

assisting minister

Lowercase.

associate/s in ministry (do not use)

Title for associates in ministry, diaconal ministers and deaconesses is now “deacon.”

see also deacon

assumption/Assumption

Capitalize only when referring to the Aug. 15 festival on the Roman Catholic calendar: “The Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary.”

Athanasian Creed, the

Capitalize; but lowercase “creed” when using the short form in subsequent references: “the creed.”

atonement

Lowercase.

ATTN:

Note preferred style.

Augsburg Confession

Do not italicize or enclose in quotation marks.

a while, awhile

When used with “for,” write as two words:

She will travel for a while.

But She will travel awhile.

Baal/baals

Reference to any of numerous Canaanite and Phoenician local deities; singular, without article, usually capitalize:

The people went out to worship Baal.

plural form is lowercase: “baals” or “baalim”

baby Jesus

Lowercase “baby.”

baptism/Baptism

Baptism is the celebration of the Sacrament of Holy Baptism; capitalize when referring to the Christian sacrament or rite, usually accompanied with a page citation for the service: “Holy Baptism,” “Sacrament of Holy Baptism”; lowercase when used as a general term: “baptism by fire,” “remembering my baptism,” “Jesus’ baptism”:

Many Christians practice infant baptism.

baptismal, baptismal candle, baptismal garment

Any such adjectival usage of “baptismal” is lowercase.

baptismal font

Prefer simply “font.”

baptized, the

Lowercase.

B.C./A.D.; B.C.E./C.E.

B.C. is abbreviation for “before Christ,” and should come after the year; A.D. is abbreviation for “anno Domini,” “in the year of our Lord,” and should come before the year; B.C.E. is abbreviation for “before the common era”; C.E. is abbreviation for “common era”;

Prefer usage of B.C./A.D.; however B.C.E./C.E. are acceptable to use especially in an inter-religious situation where this usage is more hospitable than B.C./A.D.

beatitude(s), Beatitudes

Capitalize only when referring to Matthew 5:1–12 and Luke 6:20–26; but “Jesus’ beatitudes.”

between

see among, between biannual, biennial

“biannual” means twice a year:

Prefer “semiannual”

“biennial” means every two years.

Bible/Holy Bible, the

In general, capitalize; but lowercase when used as a nonreligious term:

My dictionary is my bible.

see also books of the Bible

Bible, version of the

The New Revised Standard Version of the Bible is to be used for all biblical references (the transition to the New Revised Standard Version Updated Edition has begun). If it is necessary, in a particular context, to quote another version, reasoning for this deviation from the standard should be provided when the document is submitted to Strategic Communications for editorial review, as well as an indication of which version is being used.

see biblical text references

see also Appendix 1 for appropriate credit lines for various versions of the Bible

biblical (adj.)

Lowercase.

biblical quotations

If a biblical quotation consists of only one verse, it can be credited by simply putting the abbreviation for the version of the Bible used in small caps after the citation; if the resource contains numerous biblical references, a credit line should be added on the copyright page of the resource crediting the appropriate version used.

see also New Revised Standard Version, the see Appendix 1 for appropriate credit lines

biblical text citations

- Never put a space after the colon in a biblical citation: Psalm 23:1.
- Complete chapters cited within a body of copy may use chapter number only: Matthew 5; at other times (for example, when listing a Bible basis), list the complete citation: Matthew 5:1-48.
- Don't abbreviate books of the Bible.
- Arabic numbers (not Roman numerals) are used for numbered books: 2 Thessalonians; if a sentence starts with a book name, spell out the number:
Second Thessalonians begins with
- If a reference to the Bible translation follows a verse citation, it is placed in small caps without a comma: Matthew 13:34 KJV; references to Bible translation within copy should be spelled out upon first usage; subsequently the appropriate acronym may be used.
- Examples of biblical references:
It is then we remember the words, “There is the Lamb of God” (John 1:29 TEV).
But Paul and Silas did not give up hope, singing and praying even in prison (verse 25) or (v. 25).
“And I will be with you always, to the end of the age” (Matthew 28:20).
- Examples of punctuation within the citation for biblical text references:
Matthew 13:34
Matthew 13:34-35 (use a hyphen)

Matthew 13:34, 48, 56 (comma and space between nonconsecutive verses)

Matthew 5; 8 (semicolon to separate whole, nonconsecutive chapters)

Matthew 13:34; 14:7 (semicolon and space to separate chapters that have verse references)

Acts 2:4; Matthew 13:34 (semicolon and space to separate citations from different books of the Bible)

- The following examples make use of the en dash and are an exception to the AP Stylebook; they follow the rules set forth by the style guide of the Society for Biblical Literature
 - Matthew 13:34 – 14:7 [en dash for a passage that encompasses parts of two chapters];
 - Matthew 5 – 7 [en dash to separate whole, consecutive chapters]
 - Matthew 4:8 – 5:48 [when reference ends with the end of a chapter, cite ending verse number to avoid a citation like Matthew 4:8 – 5]

bisexual

No hyphen.

see also LGBTQ and LGBTQIA+

bishop

- In first reference, lowercase:
 - Closing remarks were given by the Rev. Janice Schulz, bishop of the ELCA Central States Synod.
- When the title comes before the name, capitalize title:
 - Bishop Janice Schulz.
- Do not use both “the Rev.” and the title before the person’s name, for example, do not use “the Rev. Bishop Joseph Anderson.”
- The title of the chief executive officer of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America is “presiding bishop”; capitalize when used with a name:
 - Presiding Bishop Elizabeth Eaton led worship.
 - The name of the office is “Office of the Presiding Bishop”
- For questions about titles of leaders of other denominations, consult with staff of Ecumenical and Inter-Religious Affairs or Office of the Secretary.

Black (adj.)

Use the capitalized term as an adjective in a racial, ethnic or cultural sense: “Black Americans,” “historic Black churches”; prefer to reference ethnic background rather than skin color.

blind

Use “people who are blind,” “people who are visually impaired,” “blind people”; do not use “the blind.”
see also disability

church bodies

Lowercase.

Church Council

Use in reference to the Church Council of the ELCA only; if the context clearly indicates that the ELCA Church Council is meant, lowercase “council” may be used upon subsequent references.

see also Congregation Council; Synod Council

churchwide (adj.)

Always use as an adjective modifying another word; never use as a noun standing alone; never use “nationwide” or “national” to reference the territory of the ELCA since the Bahamas and the Caribbean are not a part of the United States.

see also churchwide ministries, churchwide organization

Churchwide Assembly

Capitalize when using the full title:

I attended the 2009 ELCA Churchwide Assembly.

A churchwide assembly happens every three years.

Lowercase when only “assembly” is used:

Important decisions were made by the 2011 Churchwide Assembly. During the assembly ...

churchwide ministries

References the programs, ministries, resources, services and initiatives of the ELCA’s churchwide expression; treated as a singular, collective noun; may be used instead of “churchwide organization” to shift the focus from administration to mission.

churchwide office

Do not use; reference should be to “churchwide organization” or “churchwide ministries.”

churchwide organization

Lowercase; one of the three expressions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; this is the correct terminology for reference to the national and global ministries administrative offices of this church:

I work for the churchwide organization. I work at the Lutheran Center.

Do not use “I work at churchwide” or “I work at the ELCA.”

church year

Lowercase.

city of David

Note capitalization treatment.

civilized/uncivilized

Avoid; use “traditional” or “cultural” instead, as in “traditional people,” “cultural practices.”

clergy

As distinct from laity; use also “pastor,” “members of the clergy,” “ordained minister.”

Avoid “clergyman,” “clergywoman,” “clergyperson.”

clergy titles

- In formal running text, on first reference, use “the Rev. Jane M. Doe” (note use of the person’s full name).
- In more informal text, may use “Jane Doe, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church.”
- In correspondence use “The Rev. Jane M. Doe” in the address, and “Dear Pastor Doe” in the salutation.
- “Pr.” is an acceptable abbreviation for “Pastor” in a list with names and titles.
- Lowercase “pastor” when used after the person’s name:
The Rev. Jane M. Doe, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church, presided at worship Sunday.
- Former ELCA bishops are referred to as simply “the Rev. Jane Doe”; they are not bishops for life.
- Never use “the Rev. Dr.” unless the doctorate is an earned degree.
- Using titles other than “pastor” for clergy of other denominations may be appropriate and preferred; consult with staff of Ecumenical and Inter-Religious Relations and Office of the Secretary if you have a question about the title of someone of another denomination

see AP Stylebook, “religious titles,” for usage

see also bishop

co-

Hyphenate between this prefix and the word that follows when indicating occupation or status: “co-pastor,” “co-signer”; otherwise, do not hyphenate “coequal,” “coexist,” “cooperate,” “coordinate.”

colon

Capitalize the word following a colon only if it is a proper noun or begins a complete sentence; one space follows the colon; no space after the colon in a biblical citation.

see AP Stylebook, “Punctuation”

comma

- With dates: in full dates, a comma follows the year:
On Nov. 8, 1998, the Committee on the Rightful Place of Commas will meet.
When only the month and year are listed, don’t use a comma, as in “November 1998.”
- With Junior, Senior, II, III: no comma is used between the surname and these designations:
Benjamin V. Washington Jr., executive assistant to the bishop, met with us.
Joseph J. Olson III, executive assistant to the bishop, was absent.
- With states and countries: a comma follows the name of a state in city-state or city in city-country references in text:
The meeting was held in Columbus, Ohio, at Trinity Lutheran Seminary.
They visited Geneva, Switzerland, while on their vacation in Europe.

see also AP Stylebook, “comma”

comma in a series

see serial punctuation

commandment/Commandment(s)

Lowercase when referring to any general commandment:

That commandment is hard to keep.

Capitalize when referring to the Ten Commandments as a whole or to a specific one: “the First Commandment” or “the Commandments.”

Commandment, the Great

As found in Matthew 22:37.

Commission, the Great

As found in Matthew 28:19-20 or Mark 16:15.

communion/Communion

Lowercase when used as a general term: “the communion of saints,” “my first communion.” Capitalize only when referring to the Christian sacrament of receiving the body and blood of Christ (usually includes a page citation for the rite being referenced: “Holy Communion,” “Sacrament of Holy Communion”).

complement, compliment

“Complement” refers to something that completes or perfects another thing:

A dessert plate is a nice complement to a formal place setting.

“Compliment” is an approving remark:

She paid me a nice compliment about my new suit.

compline

see night prayer

compose, comprise

“Compose” means “to put together or create” or “to be made up of”:

Mozart was known to compose as early as age 5.

The task force was composed of both clergy and lay people.

“Comprise” means “to include”:

Before he died at 35, Mozart’s compositions would comprise over 40 symphonies.

confession/Confession

Lowercase any creedal usage: “confessions of faith.” Capitalize when used as a short form for a specific document: “the Augsburg Confession,” “the Westminster Confession” or “Lutheran Confessions. Also capitalize when used as a title in a liturgical setting: “Confession and Forgiveness.”

confirmation

Confirmation is the program that leads to Affirmation of Baptism; lowercase when used as a general term:

I am in my second year of confirmation class.

see also Affirmation of Baptism congregation

One of the three expressions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; do not refer to a “local congregation” as this is redundant.

Note references to “congregations of the ELCA” includes new mission starts.

congregation-based organizing/congregation-based community organizing

Hyphenate; “faith-based community organizing” is also acceptable.

Congregation Council

Capitalize when using as the complete, specific reference to this body; this is the correct name for the governing bodies of ELCA congregations, according to the ELCA constitution. May be lowercase when reference is a generic one for councils in congregations.

Do not use “church council” or “Congregational Council.”

Consecration

Lowercase

contractions

Avoid the use of contractions in official documents of this church.

copyright

The ELCA (not the unit) holds the copyright to any work produced by churchwide staff in the line of their job responsibilities; separately incorporated ministries of the ELCA may hold the copyright in their name:

Copyright © 20XX Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

Copyright © 20XX Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

council

Capitalize when referencing “Church Council” of the ELCA; lowercase when referring to it subsequently: “the council.” Follow a similar pattern for “Synod Council” and “Congregation Council.”

Counter-Reformation

Reform movement in the Roman Catholic Church following the Protestant Reformation; also called the Catholic Reformation.

courtesy titles (Mr., Mrs., Ms., Mx.)

Be consistent; either use courtesy titles for everyone or do not use at all.

covenant/Covenant

Prefer “books of the Old Testament.” Lowercase when used as a theological concept: “Mosaic covenant,” but capitalize as a synonym for books of the Old Testament: “Old Covenant.”

creation

Lowercase.

creator/Creator

Capitalize when used as a synonym for God or part of a title in direct address: “our Creator”; otherwise lowercase: “God, creator of the universe.”

credit lines, copyright language

see Appendix 1 for appropriate credit lines to use when citing common resources

creed/Creed

Capitalize only when used as part of a title: “the Apostles’ Creed,” “the Nicene or Athanasian Creeds” or when the meaning is otherwise unclear. Lowercase when referring to any generic creed:

“Do unto others ...” has become his creed.

cross

Lowercase.

Crucified, the

Note capitalization treatment.

Crucified One

Capitalize.

crucifixion

Lowercase is preferred; capitalize only when the context does not make understanding clear.

crusades/Crusades

Capitalize when referring to the Crusades of the Middle Ages; lowercase elsewhere.

dash

The following is a summary of the “dash” entry from AP Stylebook, placed here for easy reference; AP Stylebook uses only one type of dash, the em dash; it is used in the following circumstances:

- Abrupt change in thought or an emphatic pause.
- Attribution at the end of a quotation, followed by the author’s name.

Note: a space both precedes and follows the dash; exception an en (–) or em (—) dash is used in some biblical citations which encompass more than one chapter.

see biblical references.

- Always use figures without the ending -st, -nd, -rd, or -th: “Jan. 1, 2009,” not “Jan. 1st, 2009.”
- When the month and year are used alone, spell out the month and do not separate with a comma: “November 1998.”
- When using a full date (month, date, year), or just month and date, abbreviate the months Jan., Feb., Aug., Sept., Oct., Nov., Dec.: “Nov. 2, 1998,” but “July 4, 2011”; and “Nov. 2” but “July 4.”
- When using a full date (month, date, year) in the middle of a sentence, a comma follows the year: “We will meet Nov. 2, 1998, at the hall.”
- When using inclusive dates, may drop the century in the second reference: “1920-25,” “2009-10.”
- When using inclusive dates with B.C. and A.D., use full year: “330-300 B.C.,” “A.D. 1900-1905.”

note: B.C. follows the date; A.D. precedes it.

DAYLE

Definitely-abled Youth Leadership Event or DAYLE is no longer used. The new name is the tAble.

see ELCA Youth Gathering

Day of Atonement

Note capitalization treatment.

day of judgment

Capitalize only when the meaning is otherwise unclear, or when it means the same as the Day of the Lord.

Day of the Lord

Note capitalization treatment.

Deacon/deaconess

Any minister on the Roster of Word and Service, with the exception of a member of the Deaconess Community, is to be referred to as a “deacon,” regardless of gender. The title of address is “Deacon.” A member of the Deaconess Community is referred to in text as a “deaconess.” Only members of the Deaconess Community may be referred to with the feminine form. The title of address for a deaconess is “Sister,” and never “Deaconess.” (Updated March 2021.)

Dead Sea Scrolls

Qumran literature.

deaf/Deaf

Use “people who are deaf,” “hearing impaired,” “deaf people”; do not use “the deaf” or “hard of hearing”; “Deaf” is capitalized when referring to a culture of people; note that the same practice for capitalization does not hold for “blind.”
see also disability

decades

Use Arabic figures to indicate decades of history; use apostrophes to indicate numerals that are left out:
She composed during the '80s and '90s.
see also centuries; dates

decimals

For amounts less than 1, use the numeral zero before the decimal point: “0.3.”

delegate

Use only when referring to Women of the ELCA Triennial Convention; use “voting member” in the context of a churchwide or synod assembly.

Deutero-Isaiah

Capitalize and hyphenate if used.
Prefer “2 Isaiah.”

developing nation

Do not use; see Third World nation.

devil

Lowercase.

diaconal minister (do not use)

Title for associates in ministry, diaconal ministers and deaconesses is now “deacon.”
see deacon

“diakonia”

Avoid usage in public documents; Greek word describing the concept of unconditional service to the neighbor in need; leads inevitably to social change that restores, reforms and transforms.

Note: it is not placed in quotation marks when used in reference to the team within the Global Mission unit.

dialogue/Dialogue

Lowercase when referencing, in a liturgy, the brief phrases or sentences used responsively between leader and assembly; especially, the three-part dialogue that begins the Great Thanksgiving:

The Lord be with you.

And also with you.

Lift up your hearts.

We lift them to the Lord.

Let us give thanks to the Lord our God.

It is right to give our thanks and praise.

see also Great Thanksgiving, the

May be capitalized if used as part of a proper noun:

He participated in the Lutheran-Catholic Dialogue.

diaspora/Diaspora

Capitalize only when referring to the dispersion of the Jews after the Babylonian exile or in a title.

different from

Use instead of “different than.”

disability

General term for a permanent or semipermanent condition that may interfere with a person’s capability to do something independently. All references should reflect that the person is more important than the condition.

Refer to “people with disabilities” not “the disabled”; refer to the specific condition whenever possible:

“people who are deaf,” not “the deaf”; “people who are blind,” not “the blind.”

disciples, the

Lowercase “the 12 disciples”; but capitalize “the Twelve.”

ELCA Foundation

elca.org/foundation

ELCA Good Gifts

Do not refer to the program as simply "Good Gifts" as that is a trademark registered with a different organization; lowercase "catalog" when referring to the ELCA Good Gifts catalog resource.

ELCA Malaria Campaign

Countries involved in the campaign include: Angola, Central African Republic, Ethiopia, Liberia, Malawi, Mozambique, Nigeria, South Sudan, Tanzania, Uganda, Zambia, Zimbabwe. In 2015, the campaign met its five-year goal of raising $15 million.

ELCA Missionaries

Note capitalization to be used when the context is the list of components of ELCA Global Church Sponsorship.

ELCA.org

Official website of the ELCA.

Note capitalization treatment; use "@elca.org" for email addresses, but "ELCA.org" (underscore if your software does not do so automatically).

No need to add "www" or underscore when URL stands alone or is not in running copy.

ELCA Outdoor Ministry

Do not use for the name of the program, which is now Lutheran Outdoor Ministries and is not a program of the ELCA. The camps, retreats and conference centers may be referred to as "outdoor ministries" using lowercase and plural form.

ELCA World Hunger and Disaster Appeal

Do not use in external resource contexts; only acceptable use is for internal communication, when referring in a broad sense to the fundraising arm or staff that includes both ELCA World Hunger and ELCA Disaster Response.

see also Appendix 2 for Lutheran Disaster Response and ELCA World Hunger Style Sheet

ELCA Youth Gathering

May use “the Gathering” (capitalized) on subsequent reference. Do not use “National Gathering” or “Youth Gathering.”

Gathering pre-events include the Multicultural Youth Leadership Event or MYLE and the tAble (formerly the Definitely-abled Youth Leadership Event or DAYLE).

ELCA Youth Ministry

Singular, not “... Ministries” for the name of the program; lowercase if referring to “youth ministry” in other contexts.

elderly

Prefer “older adult”; use the word “elderly” sparingly; usage may be appropriate in generic phrases that do not refer to specific individuals: “a home for the elderly,” “elder hostel,” “elder care”

ellipsis

Three dots used to indicate, in quoted copy, that some material was purposely left out.

- In general, treat an ellipsis as a three-letter word, constructed with three periods and two spaces:
“Therefore we are to ... gladly act according to his commandments.”
- If the quoted material before the ellipsis makes a complete sentence, place a period at the end of that text before the space and the ellipsis:
“I am the Lord your God. ... I the Lord your God am a jealous God.”
- If the quoted material before the ellipsis does not make a complete sentence, retain any punctuation that follow the last word before the material being left out:
“Our Father in heaven, ... now and forever. Amen.”

email

Do not hyphenate; capitalize only if it occurs at the beginning of a sentence.

- For email addresses, use roman type, not italic in all instances.
- Email addresses are not case sensitive; use lowercase for all letters.
- When the email address breaks at the end of a line of copy, do not add any punctuation, such as a hyphen, lest that mark be taken as part of the address:
I check this email box daily (sam.doe @yahoo.com), so please use that address.
- Always use ending punctuation if address falls at the end of a sentence:
Please contact me at this email address: samantha_doe@yahoo.com.
Do not add a space between the email address and the ending punctuation.

emblem

Part of the brandmark of the ELCA; graphic representation of the ELCA mission statement (Marked with the cross of Christ forever, we are claimed, gathered and sent for the sake of the world.) by means of a four-color-quadrant orb with a black cross dividing the quadrants.

The end times; last days.

Eskimo

Do not use.

see Alaska Native

eternal Father

Note capitalization treatment.

etc.

Avoid usage if it is possible to be more specific.

eternal Lord

Note capitalization treatment.

ethnic, national and racial group references

- Avoid using the term “minority” when referring to ethnic, national or racial groups.
- Usage of the cultural-ethnic background of people is preferred rather than reference to categories of color. This affirms the rich ethnic traditions from which people have come rather than simply indicating skin color or a perceived skin color.
- Take care when using terms that identify people by their skin color, ethnicity or nation of origin. Each group of people has its own history, culture and heritage. Because members of some ethnic groups use different terms when referring to themselves, if possible ask them how they would like to be identified.
see individual racial group entries for guidelines
- The ELCA Ethnic Specific Ministry areas, their mission strategies and related associations are:
 - African Descent (African American, Afro Caribbean, African National)
 - American Indian and Alaska Native
 - Arab and Middle Eastern
 - Asian and Pacific Islander
 - European
 - Latino
 - Cross Cultural Conversations
- Avoid BIPO (Black, Indigenous, Persons of Color). (Updated April 2023)

- Transgender Woman
- Transgender Man
- Non-Binary
- Gender Fluid
- Genderqueer
- Other not named

mother/father/parent

When not talking about a specific role or event or when the gender is not known, “parent” or “guardian” should be used instead.

preferred pronoun

Do not use. It has since been replaced by “personal pronoun” or “pronoun.”

pronouns

Pronouns for entries in forms and elsewhere should include:

- he/him/his
- she/her/hers
- they/them/theirs
- xe/xem/xyrs
- ze/xem/xyrs
- other (with an option to fill in the blank of the pronoun)
- none (just the person's name)

(Updated April 2023.)

son/daughter/child

“Child” should be used when the gender is not known or when talking about a hypothetical child.

“Children of God” should be used instead of “sons and daughters of God.”

they/them/theirs

These can function as both singular and plural pronouns. It is the optimal substitute when discussing someone whose gender is not yet known or when talking about hypothetical people.

titles of people in forms

Forms should use the following titles

- Bishop
- Deacon
- Dr.
- Mr.
- Mrs.
- Ms.

- Mx.
- Pastor
- Sister*
- The Rev.
- (None)

*“Sister” can only be used for members of Deaconess community.

“None” is in parenthesis to indicate that it is not a formal title but rather the person chooses not to use a title to reflect the absence of using pronouns.

Do not use when referring to racial groups.

minor prophets/Minor Prophets

Capitalize when referring to the section of the Bible:

The 12 books in the Minor Prophets section of the Bible are Hosea, Joel, Amos, Obadiah, Jonah, Micah, Nahum, Habakkuk, Zephaniah, Haggai, Zechariah and Malachi.

Lowercase when referring to a person:

Amos was one of the minor prophets.

“missio Dei”

Use with quotation marks; translates from Latin as “sending of God.”

missionary

Prefer referencing a specific job instead: “teachers in China,” “translators in Ethiopia.”

Jack, who works in animal husbandry in Nigeria, is a missionary supported by our congregation.

Do not use “mission personnel.”

Mission Support (n.)

Portion of congregational offerings that is shared with the synod and churchwide organization to support ministries in those expressions of the ELCA.

Note when associated with the ELCA, this term is a proper noun, and is therefore capitalized; it is never hyphenated:

Mission Support enables the ELCA to do its work.

mission to Avoid; use “mission with” instead.

The ELCA is in mission with companion churches throughout the world.

missional

Avoid usage in public documents; describe what is meant in clear adjectival terms instead.

Exception: Missional Leadership Centers.

Missional Leadership Centers

Formerly known as “mission schools”; name changed because of the historical negative connotation.

Exception to the usage of “missional.”

note capitalization treatment when used as a title:

Read Luther’s “95 Theses” for our next class session.

He nailed 95 theses to the door of the church.

nonprofit

No hyphen.

nonsexist language

- Avoid using terms that unnecessarily specify someone’s gender, such as “chairman” or “prophetess”; in most cases, “chair” or “prophet” can be used instead; exception to AP Stylebook.
- Avoid sexism by using nongender-specific language such as “humanity” or “humankind” instead of “mankind,” except when directly quoting from an original source.

see also gendered language

numbers/numerals

- In general, do not begin a sentence with a numeral; spell out a number at the beginning of a sentence or rewrite the sentence.
- Spell out the first nine cardinal and ordinal numbers when used in text:
There were eight applicants.
She was the sixth spelling bee contestant.
- Use figures for numbers above nine:
The table was set for 10.
There were 50 in the audience.
- These “spell out” and “use figures” rules above do not apply to ages, figures in headlines, figures containing decimals, statistics, results of voting, percentages, sums of money, times of day, days of month, latitude and longitude, degrees of temperature, dimension, measurements and proportion, numbers that are part of titles, or sports points

- Spell out large numbers:
They planned to raise $2 million.
- With four digits, use a comma in the number, as in “2,000,” except in reference to a year: “A.D. 2000”
- Do not use “firstly” or “secondly”; use “first” and “second”
- Use numerals for both % and percentages:
2%
3.75%
0.6%
10 percentage points
- Use numerals to express age:
5 years old
32-year-old
- Fractions should be written out and hyphenated:

synod (n.)

One of the three expressions of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America. In first reference be sure to include “ELCA” in the name; capitalize when used with the name: “ELCA Upstate New York Synod.” Second reference: “the synod.” There are no official abbreviations for synod names, so always spell them out. Be sure to reference the correct geographic designations in the names of the synods.

Note: Do not use synodical: synod bishop, Synod Council, etc.

see Appendix 4 for a complete listing of ELCA synods

Synod Assembly

Capitalize when using the entire name, with or without the year:

I attended the 2009 Synod Assembly.

Lowercase if only “assembly” is used upon subsequent reference:

Important decisions are made during the Synod Assembly. During the assembly

Synod Council

The governing body of an ELCA synod. Capitalized similarly to “Church Council”; lowercase “council” when used alone.

synod office

Lowercase.

synod-authorized worshipping communities (SAWCs)

“Within the territory of each geographic synod, the synod—in keeping with criteria, policies and procedures proposed by the secretary of this church, after consultation with the appropriate churchwide unit or units, and approved by the Church Council—may acknowledge certain authorized worshipping communities such as developing ministries, preaching points, or chapels as related to the synod and part of the synod’s life and mission. Such authorized worshipping communities of the synod shall accept and adhere to the Confession of Faith and Statement of Purpose of this church, shall be served by leadership under the criteria of this church, and shall be subject to the discipline of this church” (ELCA Constitution - churchwide bylaw 10.01.04.).

synodwide

Lowercase; do not hyphenate.

synoptic gospels

Lowercase.

Synoptics, the Capitalize.

tagline

One word; the official, registered tagline of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America is:

“God’s work. Our hands.”

It should never appear as a headline or stand alone; it should always be capitalized and punctuated as illustrated above in order to preserve its integrity and assist in brand identification. Find resources at ELCA.org/dayofservice; consult ELCA.org/trademark for approved usage of the tagline. (Updated April 2023.)

see also brandmark and God’s work. Our hands.

task force

Capitalize only if entire name of the specific task force is used; lowercase in other instances:

The Communal Discernment Task Force held its annual meeting.

The work of the task force continues between meetings.

teenager

do not use

see boy; girl; young adult; youth

telephone numbers

Use hyphens in the number, not parentheses, periods or a slash; note the style when including an extension:

Call us at 773-380-0000, ext. 234, to receive a copy.

temple/Temple

Capitalize only when naming a specific temple: “the Temple of Solomon,” “the Second Temple.”

temptation, the

Lowercase.

Ten Commandments

Capitalize; do not use “10 Commandments.”

tenebrae/Tenebrae

Capitalize only when part of a formal title.

text of a hymn, hymn text

Use instead of “lyrics.”

thankoffering

One word; lowercase.

Third World nation

Do not use; instead use the specific name of the hemisphere or area that is referenced.

Note: in contemporary usage, “Third World” carries “economic” implications, meaning nonindustrialized or economically poor by Western economic standards. Never use “developing” as a modifier for a church or a group of people—terms such as “underdeveloped” or “developed” oversimplify a nation’s status based on economic or material terms. In this usage, nations are measured by purely Western standards, and other dimensions of human community and values are overlooked.

Three Days, the

Begins with the Maundy Thursday evening liturgy and ends with Easter Day evening prayer. Easter Day is the last day of the Paschal Triduum and the first day of the Easter season.

Three in One

Trinity; refers to the Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

time

- Use numerals except for noon and midnight
- Lowercase “a.m.” and “p.m.”:
We meet at 2 p.m.
- Avoid redundancies: write
We will meet at 7 p.m. today.
not “We will meet tonight at 7:00 p.m.”
- use numerals to express length of time
Allow 2 minutes for discussion.

time of the church, the

The nonfestival part of the church year, including the time after Pentecost and often the time after Epiphany; also referred to as Ordinary Time

timeline

One word when the meaning is schedule of events or equivalent of timetable:

The timeline for development of the health-care social statement listed the meeting dates.

time line

Two words when the meaning is time chart as in a table listing important events for successive years or groups of years within a particular period:

The time line of major religious events in past millennia highlighted the importance of the Reformation and Counter-Reformation in the 16th century.

titles of compositions

Includes book titles, magazine titles, movie titles, opera titles, play titles, album titles, radio and television program titles.

Use italic type; capitalize principal words, including prepositions and conjunctions of four or more letters; capitalize articles or words of fewer than four letters if it is the first or last word in a title. Use roman type and quotes for chapter titles, hymn titles).

Exceptions per AP Style include the Bible and books that are primarily catalogs of reference material (e.g., almanacs, directories, dictionaries, encyclopedias, gazetteers, handbooks and similar publications).

titles of ELCA churchwide staff

In editorial text, prefer the title after the name: “Jane Doe, executive director for”

For signature blocks in business letters, put the capitalized title of the person on a second line with the unit or program name as appropriate

Jane Doe
Executive Director, {Unit} Evangelical Lutheran Church in America

titles of ELCA churchwide ministries and teams

Generally these terms are to be used only in internal references. When possible in public documents, refer to the work of the ELCA rather than a specific unit; when used, be sure to include “ELCA.”

Teams or areas of ministry include (see organization chart in Paylocity for a complete and current list’ updated April 2023):

Operations

- Office of the Presiding Bishop
 - Assistant to the Presiding Bishop/Executive for Administration
 - Strategic Communications

Torah

The five books of Moses, which constitute the Pentateuch: Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers and Deuteronomy.

Tower of Babel

Capitalize.

toward

Do not use “towards.”

trademark

Avoid using trademark names as a general reference to a particular type of product:

I used a sticky note to leave him a message.

not “I used a Post-It note to leave him a message.”

transfiguration

Capitalize only when the meaning is otherwise unclear or when referring to the festival on the last Sunday before Lent: “the Transfiguration of Our Lord” or “Transfiguration.”

transgender

see LGBTQ

Triannual, triennial

See biannual

tribe/Tribe

Usually lowercase: “the tribe of Judah,” “tribes of Israel.” Capitalize when used with an American Indian name: “Dakota Tribe.”

tribes, tribal

Avoid in general usage. Many Africans are very sensitive about being identified along tribal lines; the word “tribe” also carries connotations of primitiveness. Avoid “tribal” as well unless used by the people themselves. Identify a person by nationality or, in some circumstances, by ethnic group or language instead.

Note: for American Indians, “tribe” is acceptable, but “nation” is preferred.

triduum, the

Translates from Latin as “three days.” Lowercase, but capitalize in “Paschal Triduum.”

see Three Days, the trinitarian/Trinitarian

Capitalize only when referring to the Trinitarian Controversy.

Trinity

Capitalize.

Trinity season

Prefer “time after Pentecost.”

triune God

Note capitalization treatment.

tune names

In hymnody, to indicate a tune name, use small caps and appropriate capitalization, no quotation marks:

ADESTE FIDELES

EIN FESTE BURG

Twelve, the

Refers to the 12 disciples; capitalize.

twelve days of Christmas, the

Note capitalization treatment.

Twelve Steps

The 12 stages of recovery that are used by Alcoholics Anonymous and similar support groups; capitalize. Also “Twelve Step program.”

unchurched

Use as an adjective only:

Unchurched people make up 40% of the U.S. population.

Do not equate unchurched people with non-Christians. “Unchurched” describes people who are not active in or members of a congregation; they may or may not be baptized.

undesigned

Preferred over “unrestricted” in fundraising materials

United Church of Christ

A full communion partner with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

United Methodist Church, The

A full communion partner with the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America.

United States/U.S.

Spell out if used as a noun;

preferred use of abbreviation is as an adjective; use periods and no space between letters: “U.S. Senate.”

unrestricted

see “undesigned”

upper room, the

Lowercase.

URL/URLs

Acronym for uniform resource locator, an Internet address.

- In running text or HTML e-blasts, use roman type, no italics, capitalize ELCA in promotional items. Go to www.ELCA.org/globalmission for more information.
- when the URL stands alone, and is not intended to be hyperlinked, use roman type, no underscore, no “www”:
ELCA.org/globalmission
- Avoid, if possible, listing a URL at the end of the sentence. If there is no way to rewrite, add ending punctuation; do not add a space between the URL and the ending punctuation.
- When the URL breaks at the end of a line of copy, do not add any punctuation, such as a hyphen, lest that hyphen be taken as part of the URL; try to break the URL in a logical place: between words, after existing punctuation, and the like.

vacation Bible school

Only the word Bible is capitalized.

Vatican II

Use “Second Vatican Council” on first reference; “Vatican II” for second and subsequent references.

verse

Refers to a portion of Scripture; “v.” and “vv.” Are the abbreviations for “verse” and “verses”; the abbreviation is followed by a space and the verse number(s): “v. 2,” “vv. 4–8”; use “stanza” when referring to hymnody

see also stanza

vespers

see evening prayer

Veterans Day

Capitalize and use apostrophe appropriately.

victim

Generally do not use.

see disease

vigil/Vigil

Capitalize when meaning is Easter Vigil or Pentecost Vigil; lowercase all other uses.

Vigil of Easter

see Easter Vigil

virgin birth

Lowercase.

Virgin Mary

Note capitalization.

Virgin, the

Note capitalization.

visitation/Visitation

Capitalize only when referring to the commemoration on May 31; but preferred name for that commemoration is “Visit of Mary to Elizabeth.”

voting member

Use in the context of the Churchwide Assembly or Synod Assembly. Do not use “delegate” in this context; attendees of these assemblies are not “delegates” from their synod and as such, may make their own decisions, based upon careful examination of the issue at hand. However, in referring to the Women of the ELCA Triennial Convention, “delegate” is the proper term as they are sent on behalf of the sending entity.

Web addresses

prefer “URL.”

website

One word, no hyphen; lowercase.

white (adj.)

Lowercase: white Americans

Wise Men, the

Preferred term is “the magi.”

woman

Use for any adult women; don’t use “female.”

see also adult; girl; young adult; youth

Women of the ELCA

The proper name for the women’s organization of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in America; do not use “WELCA,” “W/ELCA” or “the Women of the ELCA.”

see Appendix 5 for Women of the ELCA style sheet

word/Word

Capitalize only as a synonym for Christ:

The Word became flesh and dwelt among us.

But “God’s word to Moses,” “word of God,” “the word of the Lord.”

word and sacrament(s)

Lowercase:

The gift of word and sacrament is from God.

Note: The roster of Ministers of Word and Sacrament.

Word Incarnate

Capitalize when referring to Jesus; but “the incarnate Word.”

works-righteousness

Hyphenate.

World Hunger

Prefer “ELCA World Hunger.”

worshiped, worshipping

Preferred spelling is with one “p”: “the worshipping congregation.”

Example of proper usage:

Last Sunday 324 people worshiped with us.

Not Last Sunday we worshiped 324 people.

writings/Writings

Capitalize only as a division of Jewish scriptures: “Law, Prophets, Writings.”

Yahweh

*Preferred usage, also “YHWH”; preferred over “Jehovah.”
Avoid “Jahweh.”*

year

see centuries; dates; decades

young adult

A person between the ages of 18 and 30.
see also adult; boy; girl; man; woman; youth

youth

Refers to individuals ages 12 to 18. For those under age 12 use “boy” and “girl”; “young man” or “young woman” are also possible terms; at age 18 everyone is a “man,” “woman,” or “young adult.”
see also adult; boy; girl; man; woman; young adult

Youth Gathering

See ELCA Youth Gathering

zealot/Zealot

Capitalize when referring to the fanatical first-century group of individuals who wanted to overthrow the Romans; otherwise, lowercase.

Appendix 2

ELCA World Hunger and Lutheran Disaster Response Style Sheet

ELCA World Hunger

- When referring to the program, use the official name, “ELCA World Hunger,” never “World Hunger.”
- “ELCA World Hunger” is the umbrella term for interunit churchwide, synodical, and congregational programs, events and activities — both program and appeal.
- The “ELCA World Hunger” landmark is used for both ELCA World Hunger program and appeal.
- Use “ELCA World Hunger program” for rare, internal communication when referring to the programmatic arm of ELCA World Hunger; this usage is also appropriate when referring to a staff position or title
- Key message: ELCA World Hunger addresses the root causes of hunger and poverty through a program of relief, development, education, advocacy and lifestyle stewardship
- ELCA World Hunger Work in Africa is the new name for Stand With Africa (updated 5-7-23).
never use “the” before “ELCA World Hunger”

Lutheran Disaster Response

- Lutheran Disaster Response refers to both Lutheran Disaster Response International and Lutheran Disaster Response U.S.
- The Lutheran Disaster Response landmark is used for both Lutheran Disaster Response International and Lutheran Disaster Response U.S.
- Note: for designated disasters, 100% of donations designated for a specific disaster are used for that disaster’s immediate relief and long-term recovery efforts. Should a response become fully funded, additional designated gifts will be applied to similar international or domestic response efforts. For a listing of disasters accepting designated donations, visit ELCA.org/giving
- Key messages include: “In it for the long haul,” “Prepared to care,” “Sharing hope” and “Immediate relief and long-term recovery”

Lutheran Disaster Response U.S.

- This refers to the ELCA’s program and fund responding to major natural and human-caused disasters in the United States and the Caribbean.
- When communicating with an ELCA-specific audience or soliciting funds from ELCA members, refer to Lutheran Disaster Response U.S. (remember “United States” includes the Caribbean).

A grouping of congregational, intercongregational and special units within the territory of a synod women's organization; also known as a "cluster" in some areas.
Note: do not use "district."

congregational unit

A member of Women of the ELCA; a community of women coming together for study, support and action in local and other settings of Women of the ELCA; also referred to as a unit.
Note: the member of Women of the ELCA is the unit, not the individual participants.

delegate

The organization sends delegates to the triennial convention, not voting members.

Gather* magazine

As of September 2011 this is the name of the monthly magazine sent to all subscribers.

Lutheran Woman Today* magazine

Please use "magazine" when describing this publication; former monthly publication of the Women of the ELCA, replaced by Gather note the proper name is "Woman," not "Women."

memorial

A statement of facts presented to a legislative body that is the basis for a petition or request for action; the way in which one organization formally makes a request of another, brought to a synodical women's organization convention by a unit or to a triennial convention by a synodical women's organization.

participant

Woman who takes part in carrying out the mission of and supports the ministries of Women of the ELCA; not all women in an ELCA congregation are automatically participants in Women of the ELCA; only those who take part in carrying out the mission of the organization and support the ministries of Women of the ELCA are participants.

serial commas

Note that the magazine of the Women of the ELCA uses the serial comma.

special unit

A member of Women of the ELCA; women who come together in special settings as authorized by the executive board, who are not affiliated with a congregation (such as on a college campus or in a retirement center).

synodical women’s organization (SWO)

Legislative and programmatic expression of Women of the ELCA that assists congregational, intercongregational and special units within its territory to fulfill the purpose of Women of the ELCA; there is a SWO in each synod of the ELCA

triennial convention

The convention of Women of the ELCA; the highest legislative authority of the organization; meets every three years.

Note: this is different from a “triennial gathering”
