West Virginia Flooding

Flash flooding in West Virginia has caused the worst flooding the state has seen in more than a century. People have died, hundreds of homes are severely damaged or destroyed, and thousands of people are without power. With the threat of more rain, more damage is likely.

Through congregations, synods and disaster-affiliate organizations, Lutheran Disaster Response is working to assist those who have been affected by the flooding. Lutheran Disaster Response's network, including our coordinators in West Virginia and neighboring Ohio, have come together to address the needs of survivors. We know this will be a long road to recovery, and we will be there to accompany those impacted through every phase of this disaster. Your gifts are needed to launch effective recovery efforts.

Gifts designated for "West Virginia Flooding" under "U.S. Flooding" will be used to assist those directly impacted until the response is complete. Because of your generous offerings of prayer and financial support, the ELCA walks alongside disaster survivors.
Thank you!
